Quiz
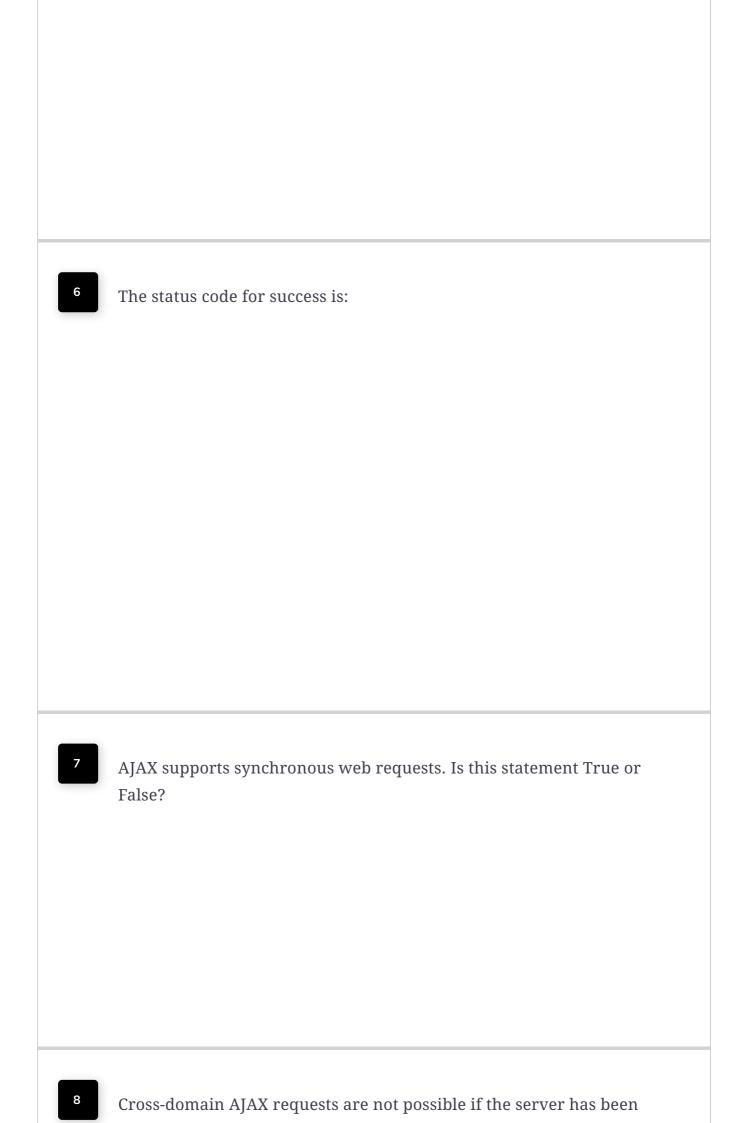

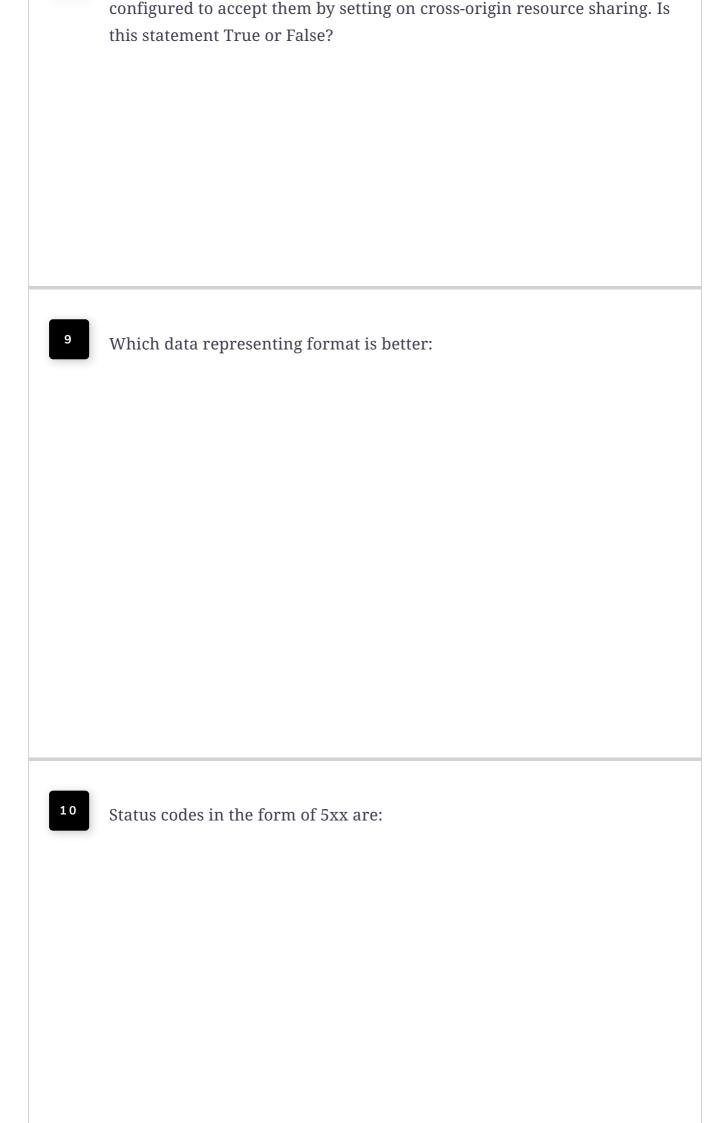

This lesson covers multiple choice questions related to building web applications.

1 Data exchanges on the Web follow a _____ paradigm.

2 The secured version of HTTP is:

3 HTTP is the protocol that allows two machines to communicate with each other on the web.

4 Which of the following is not an HTTP method?

5 Which method is used when we want to send data to the server?

6 The status code for success is:

7 AJAX supports synchronous web requests. Is this statement True or False?

8 Cross-domain AJAX requests are not possible if the server has been configured to accept them by setting on cross-origin resource sharing. Is this statement True or False?

9

Which data representing format is better:

10

Status codes in the form of 5xx are:

Check Answers